Dr. Bhawna Saxena's New Book on Indian Art and History Released

Suhaan Jain | April 4'2025

Dr. Bhawna Saxena, a distinguished faculty member of BCM School, has added another feather to her cap with the release of her latest book "अवध की चित्रकला में शबीह चित्रण - एक अध्ययन", which explores Indian history and painting with a focus on portraiture from the Mughal era to the East India Company's rule. Published in February 2025 (ISBN: 978-81-952356-4-3), this well-researched study highlights the evolution of Awadhi painting and its cultural influences.

With a scholarly yet accessible approach, Dr. Saxena examines artistic techniques, themes, and historical contexts, offering a fresh perspective on Indian portraiture. The book has already garnered praise from researchers and art historians for its insightful analysis.

"अवध की चित्रकला में शबीह चित्रण - एक अध्ययन" is a valuable resource for academics and art enthusiasts alike, enriching discussions on India's artistic heritage. For more details or to acquire a copy, readers can contact the publisher or visit major book retailers.

BCM Students Shine at IIT Madras AI Bootcamp

Three Grade XII NM students from BCM School—Pritam Kaur, Tanush Goyal, and Arnav Tiwari—have brought pride to their institution by successfully completing the prestigious Artificial Intelligence Bootcamp organized by IIT Madras.

The intensive program provided students with hands-on experience in AI fundamentals, machine learning, and real-world applications, equipping them with essential technological skills. Their dedication and hard work were recognized with Certificates of Completion from IIT Madras, marking their commitment to AI innovation.

This achievement reflects BCM School's emphasis on academic excellence and technological advancement, ensuring students are prepared for the future of AI and digital transformation.
